

Phase into Retirement with WAHVE

Experience Has Its Privileges

Leverage your years of experience to extend your career from the comfort of your home. WAHVE is an innovative contract staffing solution that matches retiring, experienced, and knowledgeable industry professionals with jobs at insurance firms nationwide.

Reimagining Retirement

WAHVE bridges the gap for those who wish to retire but still want to stay active in their careers. Research shows that continuing to work after retirement can lead to better health, increased longevity, and greater financial freedom.

Insurance firms are facing a critical shortage of experienced professionals, and the industry's retiring vintage talent can meet these staffing needs by working from home. WAHVE keeps valuable talent within the industry while helping people phase into retirement—or as we call it, “pretirement.”
