What is WAHVE?

- Wahves are retiring professionals – pretirees – who are eager to continue contributing to the workforce. WAHVE gives them the opportunity to supplement their income while working from home.
- Wahves provide staffing to fill a position when you can't find the experienced talent you need. Your wahve is contracted to you to work either on a full or part-time basis.
- Regardless of the level of work you require, your wahve fits comfortably within your budget. What's more, you pay no employee benefits or office overhead.
- Wahves work just as they would in your office and in the same way as when you or your staff work remotely. Using a high-speed internet connection, they connect securely to your system and perform their duties seamlessly.

How do We Qualify Wahves?

- All wahve candidates go through our extensive qualification process, which includes timed online computer (Internet, Word, Excel) and basic skills assessments, thorough screening and reference checks.
- To be a wahve, a candidate must have at least 25 years of total work experience with the last 15 years of specific expertise.

What Is the Process for Hiring a Wahve?

- Hiring a wahve is easy. Simply fill out an on-line Job Request outlining the job details and requirements.
- Based on your Job Request, we conduct a thorough search of our database and gather the best matches for your position.
- We send you the resumes of the most qualified wahves and then you decide whom you'd like to interview.
- After the interviews, you choose the wahve you'd like to fill your position.
- From there, we contract the wahve to you on a dedicated basis. We also set up the remote, secure connection between your office systems and your wahve.
- Your wahve is then trained on your workflow – a process that takes, on average, just a few days.
- That's it! We bill you on an hourly basis for your wahve's hours worked.
